

The English Minor in Literature

Declaring Your Minor

In order to declare, go to the English Department Office in University Hall Room 215. David Kuzel, the Undergraduate Program Assistant, will provide you with a declaration form for you to complete with the Director of Undergraduate Studies (DUS), Professor Viv Soni. The English Department will keep one copy, while the other copy goes to the Office of Studies at 1922 Sheridan Road. You are now an English Literature Minor!

Introductory Courses (3 Units)

You must complete ONE of the following sequences:

- British Literary Traditions
  - English 210-1
  - English 210-2
- OR
- American Literary Traditions
  - English 270-1
  - English 270-2

You may complete the sequence in any order. For example, if you wish to take the British Literature Sequence, you may take 210-2 and then 210-1. The same is true for the American Literature Sequence.

You must also complete English 300, a seminar that teaches fundamental skills in reading and interpretation and exposes students to new ways of thinking about literary texts. Students are strongly encouraged to take English 300 early in their career as an English Literature Minor.

Additional Literature Courses (4 Units)

You must complete 4 additional literature courses for the English Literature Minor. Two of these courses must engage primarily with literature written before 1830, and two must engage primarily with literature written after 1830. Courses are marked as pre- and post-1830 both in CAESAR and English Course Listings. One of these courses may be at the 200-level. One of these courses may be in Comp Lit at the 300-level.
